

Search

Home

Create

Haskell Indian Leader

Published by [redacted] [redacted] [redacted] · April 3 · [redacted]

Self-reported positive case of COVID-19 on Haskell Indian Nations University Campus — statement from the university below.

Dear Haskell Community,

On Tuesday, March 31, 2020, a Haskell Indian Nations University student self-reported that the student tested positive with COVID-19. In compliance with the requirements of the Clery Act, a federal mandate to notify campus community of issues of health and safety, the University is sending this Emergency Notification to the campus community.

The student is currently in isolation in an on-campus residence hall. The student may have encountered other students on campus. The University and/or Douglas County Emergency Response team will determine who those individuals may be and will be contacting those individuals. Staff who provide food and safety/security services to the residence halls have been notified and all safety practices continue to be communicated. Housing staff and University Services are in direct contact with the student and communicate regularly for the student's health and safety needs.

Students, faculty and staff presenting symptoms of COVID-19 must immediately self-isolate. Students, staff and faculty remaining on campus or in the local Lawrence area who develop symptoms can call the Haskell Health Center at 785-832-4810 or their primary care provider or local public health department for guidance.

Continue to practice social distancing per the guidelines of the CDC at <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV/index.html>. The University will continue to follow recommendations of public health officials and infectious disease experts to further reduce community transmission of the virus.

The University has reduced the density of our campus population to slow the spread of the virus and avoid overwhelming health care and community systems. Haskell has moved all course instruction to remote delivery, requested that employees work remotely if possible, and reduced the number of students who are permitted to remain in residence halls. The University does have employees who are deemed essential working on campus.

The University has now closed the campus to any outside visitors, including recreational and campus grounds, including the Haskell Stadium and Billy Mills Trail, as well as community use of the library and cultural center.

We continue to monitor this rapidly changing situation. The health and wellbeing of our campus community continues to be our highest priority. The best place to find information on Haskell's response to coronavirus is at www.haskell.edu.

32,789

People Reached

7,668

Engagements

Boost Post

👍👍👍 239

84 Comments 338 Shares

Like

Comment

Share

All Comments ▾

Comment as Haskell Indian Leader

Terra Trujillo Thank you to the student who was considerate of others in their community and self reported! Hoping they get the medical support they need and recover quickly and fully. 🙏

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

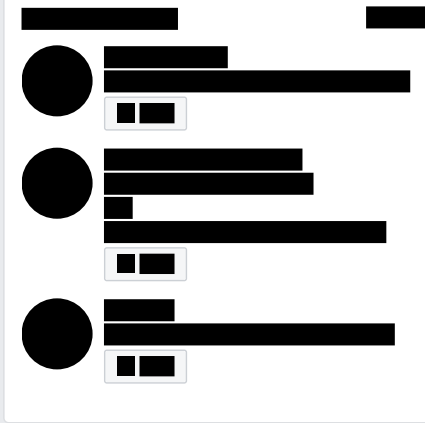

👍❤️ 31

Míghitóní Rodas Despite some of the other panic induced comments I'm glad to have come across yours. I love how you looked past the whole thing and focused on the positive part of this unfortunate news ❤️❤️

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

👍❤️ 5

Privacy · Terms · Advertising · Ad Choices · Cookies · More ▾

Facebook © 2020

 Míghthóní Rodas You're very welcome, I hope it comforts you and everyone else who might see this that the student was self-isolating long before the case was confirmed. And this student doesn't live in any of the dorms where other students are being quarantined. They actually stay a great distance from everyone.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Terra Trujillo Míghthóní Rodas the news is truly disheartening but as a nurse and parent of students at Haskell I'm just hoping the student recovers and the community stays supportive of one another. Thanks for your comment. ❤️

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Míghthóní Rodas I hope that creator keeps a watchful eye on you considering you are a nurse and at a higher risk than some of us ❤️

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

 Laurie Corpuz LaCour When the dorms close completely during Christmas break and during the summer all students leave the dormitories. It's been like this since I was a student. It's much safer to be at home on a reservation where some have completed isolated their reservation boundaries to the outside. Prayers for the Haskell communities health, safety and welfare.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Elyse Towey Not all the students have the luxury to go home. And what makes you say it's much safer in their home communities? That's not true, at all. If anything, the students had to make a hard decision to stay or take the chance of bringing the virus back to those isolated communities. I'm glad Haskell is showing much more compassion towards the students than I'm seeing on this thread. Pitiful.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Laurie Corpuz LaCour Elyse Towey there are tribes right now that have zero cases in there reservations because they took precautions before the government did anything. There are many reservations that I know have closed there borders completely to no one in or out. N... See More

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Cheryle Miller well said Laurie Corpuz LaCour

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

 Shannon Hawkins Susan Hawkins better be washing your hands!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Susan Hawkins Shannon Hawkins I am!! And when I work, I wipe down everything at least once an hour

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

 Tashina Tahdoahnippah Why are students still on campus? This is a risk to all employees and other students there. Haven't the surrounding universities shut down facilities and closed dorms? Be safe Haskell.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

^ Hide 43 Replies

Míghthíoní Rodas Haskell has made it clear from the beginning that they could not force students to leave, but that if students left for spring break and went to areas of high risk, they strongly encourage them to stay gone to prevent spread. Nobody was forced, encouraged yes, but ultimately the decision was on the student. And each student made that decision by themselves. As Jared stated, many of us do not have homes to go to if we left. Saying that Haskell should've made arrangements to reach out to ppl's tribe is misleading. Haskell ultimately never had to, they most definitely could have but they were funding all exit plans and needs and every other single thing you could think of from their own resources, not that individual's tribe. Why waste more time reaching out and waiting on responses when Haskell can do it themselves? That's how they approached the situation and I'm appreciative of them for that. Think about it, Haskell reaching out to our tribes and saying "hey this person doesn't have anywhere to go, but they're enrolled with you guys and we're trying to shut our doors so you need to take them" sounds more like a foster parent giving a child back to the system. It doesn't work like that. Or "hey we have so and so here at the university and they're apart of your tribe, we need to come up with a plan to get them home" like naahhhh they took it into their own hands and handled it themselves. Im also so proud of them for not succumbing to panic and taking every student into consideration rather than kicking us all out and basically just telling us "good luck" like the other universities you're comparing Haskell to did. Some people would end up going home only to be homeless, or denied from shelters who already had their doors shut. Haskell also paid for everyone to get home point blank. The ones who said they needed it and even students who just wanted food for the ride back, it was given to them without hesitation as far as I know and from what I witnessed. Haskell even provided plane and bus tickets to students who live less than eight and three hours away. Everything has been handled and continues to be handled in a VERY professional and considerate manner. Our population is small compared to KU's which I think puts us at an advantage. I'm wondering why you have this idea that because Haskell DIDNT shut down that they've doomed the students and staff here? Or put them at risk? That's my understanding from your comments and the verbiage you chose. You don't see what us students currently on campus see, and I can honestly say that the risk everyone here has of getting COVID is the same as it was a month ago, or even longer ago. All in all, this is new territory for everyone, nobody's ever had to worry about something like this but when it comes down to it I strongly believe that the way things were done were completely ETHICAL

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Jakoby Stump Tashina Tahdooahnippah This isn't just happening with KU and Haskell, it's happening with numerous colleges around the United States. Very thankful Haskell is one of many institutions being able to house students in such a high risk situation. I don't know about you but to me it shows how much they want their students to succeed.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Eileen Louise The students that are on campus are the ones that cannot go home right now. KU is doing the same. The students aren't going to class, they're doing their online classes along with everyone else they're just in their dorms.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Eileen Louise Tashina Tahdooahnippah I think these students had to make some hard decisions. A lot of students live with their elders and young nieces and nephews. Some if them would have to travel through many airports, gas stations and towns to get home. They would easily have exposed themselves and their families to this illness. I'm sure they're not just hanging out. They're just as devastated to not be with loved ones right now.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited   38

 Michael Nick King Tashina Tahdooahnippah I cant go back home to my family. Risking from flying to 3 airports to get home risks my getting the virus and bringing it home to a very very remote community where I live in a household of elderly grandparents and newborn babies.. it doesn't make sense to risk my health traveling to potential hotspots as airports are hotspots, I would contract the virus only to take it home to my remote community. I am immuno-compromised so I thought hard and ultimately decided that my staying at Haskell was a safer alternative than flying home by way of 3 airports with a high risk of contracting the virus to only infect people at home- no. My decision to stay was as selfless to my family and community while staying here on campus where I know I can be safe and well protected. I miss my family and community, but I did not and will not risk my community by a selfish attitude like going home. We continue to follow the protocol and plans that Haskell has put into place. And I commend all the faculty and support staff here. Thank you Haskell thank you.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w   15

 Alicia Kinuwan Tashina Tahdooahnippah KU still has around 500 on campus.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w  6

 Michael Nick King Mike Tahdooahnippah I stayed here so I don't risk catching anything along the way traveling home cuz it takes 3 airports to get home. Airports are hotspots for catching the virus. So you want be to go home and catch a virus along the way and take it home?? I live with elderly grandparents and newborn babies. Who are at greater risk. The virus is already in Lawrence so the best decision for me and the students who stayed was to stay put .cuz he are quarantined and away from the Lawrence community and our families back home are safe

Love · Reply · Message · 7w   4

 Della Johnson Tashina Tahdooahnippah I have been wondering this exact thing. I don't know of any colleges or universities operating right now, all of them are closed because of COVID.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Tashina Tahdooahnippah Della Johnson I'm wondering who made that decision and if they realize how severe this situation is. They are putting all the other students in danger and will be responsible for their well being. Other universities have recognized the severity and shut down all dorms and switched to online. Even the community college here locally with a small residential center has shut down. I hope Haskell reevaluates the situation and the dangers they are putting everyone in.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w  4

 Jared Nally Tashina Tahdooahnippah I want to advocate for the University and the students still on campus. The University has done a tremendous job of helping the students, creating safe exit plans and providing assistance to get home, something I haven't seen any other university do. Out of that, a handful of students have no where to go, or its not safe for them to leave. Haskell has been amazing in considering those students as well, some who are older and in a vulnerable demographic and have not home or family outside of what Haskell was to them. I'm one of those students here on campus and we are doing our part to self isolate. The case on campus is not in either of the two halls with students in them, and measures are being taken to protect this community on campus. I'm more worried for the 48 states our students went home to and what everyone is taking back to their communities from each university who shut down.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Tashina Tahdooahnippah Eileen Louise but my question is with the small population of Haskell in comparison to KU, was this an ethical decision. Rather than continue to house them maybe offer ways to reach out to tribes to get their members back home to their families. It makes no sense how other were told to leave but some remained during a pandemic like this when surrounding schools for the safety of the students, staff and community have shut their doors.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Tashina Tahdooahnippah Jared Nally I'm wondering on why students had to stay when notice was giving prior to spring break. I just hope that everyone follows protocol with the rising numbers and takes precautions seriously. Please be safe and considerate of not only students but the employees on campus.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Kylee Sellers Tashina Tahdooahnippah not everyone has a home to go home to.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Tashina Tahdooahnippah Kylee Sellers understandable but how is the university suppose to further assist as the restrictions continue to change on travel and quarantine orders. I feel that students were given prior notice in order to make arrangements. Believe me I understand that Haskell wants to take care of each student as they are all family, I am alumni, class of 2009, and my parents are also alumni. But my worry is the longer they allow students to be housed the harder it will be for them to leave when school buildings actually shut down the ending of spring semester. I wish you all well and praying for each and everyone of you still there. I can't imagine the decisions you had to make to be apart from your families during a time like this.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Jared Nally Tashina Tahdooahnippah I feel like there is a very narrow idea of who students are. We are not all fresh out of high school with families to return to. Out of people staying, there are immune compromised who are afraid to travel, there are people whose house holds have those on oxygen and don't want to get people sick, there are those who don't have insurance and leaving would move them from being close to IHS facilities, there are those you are over 60 with no family, there are those whose families have a drug den at home. We are all students here and leaving isn't an option for everyone and it was never an order to leave campus. Before spring break it was leave if you can safely. We are under isolation right now, talk of sending students off campus is not practical and sending people to other communities is not isolation. We are a Haskell family and so there will be people who need to weather this storm together. Haskell has allowed everyone to evaluate what it means to be safe during this time and for some safety is here.

...

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Kylee Sellers Tashina Tahdooahnippah to some students it doesn't matter how much of a notice you get, there simply isn't anywhere to go. yeah that is also worrisome, but Haskell has always been great in providing resources and taking care of its students so I trust they will do what is best for everyone. I'm thankful I'm not still there but I do worry for everyone there.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdooahnippah Jakoby Stump very true in their efforts but many of us, I am a doctoral student, as well as my children have all transferred over to online classes. I just hope the campus continues to keep their staff and remaining students safe. I have had many family members in attendance this spring who were told they could not stay and made the decision to leave campus to continue classes online. Haskell is a place we call home and we will continue to think of them during this time.

...

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdooahnippah Kylee Sellers yes I think as we all watch from afar our concern is for their safety. For all the remaining students and the staff on campus. As cases continue to rise it can be a scary time to be quarantined away from your family and loved ones.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdooahnippah Jared Nally do you happen to know what are the plans for students when the spring semester ends. Please continue to look out for each other, from afar, and advocate for the students who are at high risk and remind others of the severity this pandemic brings. Despite your precautions others may not see it the same way. Believe me we are seeing that in areas where I'm from.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Jared Nally Tashina Tahdoohnippah I don't think the administration has been able to catch its breath to start asking too many questions about summer when their is a lot of day to day uncertainty. What I'm planning on and hope other have contingent plans on as well is that summer courses will be taught online and so I doubt housing will continue for those already here, however that's just a guess. I'm currently still waiting for my pell so I can finalize plans and see if an internship with my tribe is still a possibility with my tribe and if I need to find a place to rent down there or if I need to rent something here. I was originally planning on staying on camps over the summer with courses, but this situation is changing all of that. One of my main concerns, and not only, is that I stay in a community with IHS since I don't have private healthy care coverage. I hope to get more answers so students here have more answers and have time to make contingency plans for their own living arrangements. If I stay I may look at splitting housing costs with someone here since these are unexpected expenses for us, and anyone who had a job off campus had to quit to continue living here as one of the many new rules we had in the new housing contract we signed to stay.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Alicia Kinuwan Tashina Tahdoohnippah I have personally witness staff get people off the grounds in recent weeks whether through police or direct contact. The people in town need to recognize that Haskell is protecting us students by isolating and providing shelter. I ran into a couple townies as I call them, tell me Haskell is public. It is not public it is federal Indian trust lands. I have been here first in 2000 to 2003. I returned in 2016 to present. The outsiders need to stay off the property. Haskell is doing what they can in unprecedented times and they can use all our support. I personally have not checked my campus mail box and probably won't. I'm off campus and respect Haskell's covid-19 measures.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Mike Tahdoohnippah Jared Nally keeping students at haskell is not safe best place is home, safe for them and us. We dont have equipment to care for sick student yet alone to protect ourselves, very bad choice to let student live here when Federal and state advise people to stay at home orders,

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Janet Good I'm so thankful that students have a roof over their heads. People really do seem to have one vision in mind when they hear "college student" . But not everyone can go home, or even has a home to go to, both at Haskell and at KU.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdoohnippah Míghthíoní Rodas so then let me ask, if the students do not have contact and security has to enforce those to stay in buildings, how would the student have exposed others? It is unknown territory. Rather than assume tribes would not help their people, maybe begin to devise plans to help those students when the spring semester ends. Everyone leaves each semester and as adults make the decisions on where they will go during breaks. Instead of relying heavily on the university, try assisting those students via email or phone of course, on making a plan for when the semester ends. We all worry about the campus especially those of us with family still working.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdoohnippah Mike Tahdoohnippah it's also not the staffs responsibility to have to enforce students to stay put, they are adults and will do as the please. But it's also a huge risk for others who abide by the protocols and rules.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Míghitóní Rodas The University could not LEGALLY force students to stay in the dorms 24/7? So of course contact could have been made. You could have contracted Covid and not shown symptoms for up to TWO WEEKS. Can you see now how possible contact or spread could have been made? You and I both have equal chances of having it right here and now. Haskell cannot police is over this, this is not Martial Law. And bc you've mentioned it, Haskell has plenty of resources available to compensate workers who may or may not be of a vulnerable demographic throughout this pandemic. They planned ahead in their budgeting so that at times like this that worker would be taken care of. If this worker fears for their health, they can talk to staff to set up a plan. I know for a fact that Haskell would most definitely be able to support that person as if nothing has changed. I'm a student worker and I'm still getting paid..if I'm still getting paid I know for a fact that essential workers are gonna get paid.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Jared Nally Mike Tahdoohnippah "safe for them" makes it sound like you know each students option. The purpose of my responses was to show the complexities of student circumstances and the fact that not everyone has a safe home or even a home to go to during this time. I'm not disagreeing that students who did return our safe, but I'm advocating for those who weighed their safety and family safety and stayed— this post is treating these students, part of our community, not as people, but someone to make you sick. It reminds me a lot of how gays were treated with the AIDS epidemic. Students are not scapegoats for spreading COVID-19. Haskell is a community and shouldn't be ostracizing students who are in bad situations because of fear of getting sick. There is ever evolving infrastructure to follow self isolation guide lines, and we will support each other through this not attack each other. I'm appreciative of those who have stayed off campus, those who've been stuck at home, and I've done what I can to try and stay safe and keep others. I'm on campus, a campus that has a confirmed case of COVID-19 and I still feel safe with how the university has and is handling this case. If I still feel like campus is my best option after something like this, and many students still do, that's saying something about our personal circumstances.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Mike Tahdoohnippah Michael Nick King risking all Haskell's families and love one too

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Michael Nick King Mike Tahdoohnippah who is Haskell? Who are you actually referring to when you say Haskell Cuz the employees are the ones who leave campus and still live their lives off campus, meaning you have a greater contact of the virus when you shop and go about your life outside of campus, while we students who are currently quarantined on campus are the ones being at risk by them. Your comments are pointless about safety along with your daughter's are pointless, just to get things riled up.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Mike Tahdoohnippah Michael Nick King another reason to be home w family, accidentally infection may come from either on or off campus, we just need to be more cautious

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

 Michael Nick King Mike Tahdoahnippah infection on campus is the risk we knew could happen but we chose to stay on campus anyway cuz we didn't want to risk our communities back home and I come from a very remote community so I didn't want to go home and risk them so I chose to stay here

Like · Reply · Message · 7w  1

 Tashina Tahdoahnippah Michael Nick King if you would like to speak with me in private I would appreciate a message. Please do not disregard my fathers concern for his safety and well-being. As long as students remain on campus the staff has been there to assist them despite their concerns. This is not a time to argue. I had a simple question as to the reasoning behind the decision made when we are seeing drastic measures being taken all over Indian country to protect our people. Tribes are shutting down operations and the people are going home to protect their elders and children. This is a time to think realistically and the longer administration waits to take action it puts students at greater risk when they have to vacate the premises due to closure for the semester. That's why many are concerned. So I apologize if you think this is pointless to comment about but there is high concern during this time.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w   2

 Michael Nick King Tashina Tahdoahnippah yes and I along with other students have answered your question about why we stayed. Im not the one creating arguments or tension and irrational comments in a stressful time. The administration is doing the best they can and will on a day by day basis. If this quarantine and crisis continues long after the end of the spring semester is allocated, I'm sure the Haskell administration will extend our stay here.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w   2

 Mary Nicole Tashina Tahdoahnippah You just asked a simple question and it seems like everyone wants to get all upset. I have good friends that work there and I worry about them everyday. Coulda just let you know and kept it pushing. We as Natives need to stick together more than ever no matter what tribe we are. This Administration does not care about us at all so we gotta stick together. Prayers to everyone!!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w    3

 Tashina Tahdoahnippah Michael Nick King my comment was never aimed at the students. It was toward administration. I will ask those questions of concern to the proper communication links. As an alumni of Haskell, Haskell will always have a place in my heart. Safety of students is always a factor especially for those of us who have dedicated our work within Indian Education as a focal. In no way did I mean to offend you. My concern is for my father who is a worker, who has been apart of Haskell for many years as a student and now employee, he will work until the students are safely home. But his concern is the safety of each of your wellbeing during this global epidemic, as well as their own. Stay safe Haskell.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited  3

 Michael Nick King Tashina Tahdoahnippah thanks for the concern for the overall Haskell community

Like · Reply · Message · 7w  2

Eddie Lehman I think it's obvious from some people's comments they have no familiarity with epidemiology and virology. If they did they would know that taking a large group of people, isolating them together, with a common meal system is a recipe for disaster.

And above you see people making arguments with information that refutes their conclusion. I won't detail it item by item, but just one example. Someone made the comment not to worry, the person who is contagious stays isolated in a separate building away from everyone. Do they? Then how did they contract the virus? Do you know where they get their meals? Have they come in contact with the Food Service staff? And they contacted the Administration, how did they do that, by phone or in person? Do you know?

It's a virus speed through the air and in contact and can be transported up to 29 feet, it remains active on metal surfaces for up to several days.

The letter says the Administration was notified on Tuesday. Today is Friday, that's four days later. That itself is a crime if this is just now being released. That also doesn't take into account the days prior to the student notifying the administration and what and who they may have contacted prior.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Eddie Lehman Michael, the protocol and plans Haskell put in place have you in a fishbowl with at least one other infected person and you didn't hear about it from those same people until four days later.

You could have put on a N95 or N100 and flown home. Washed your hands when you got off the last flight, changed your clothes and put your old ones in a bag, went into your home and stayed in your room with the door closed for two weeks and would have been fine.

Now you are in a contained environment that has already demonstrated they can't provide a safe place for the people in it.

Good luck.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Eddie Lehman Alicia, it is not and never has been trust land.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Kym Mathias Why do people say, "Everyone can't go home."??? Where do they go in the summer? Where do they go for xmas n spring break? Where do they go when they graduate? They should not have let students stay on campus. They don't all practice safe social distancing. That puts everyone at risk.

Like · Reply · Message · 5w

Tashina Tahdoahnippah Míghítoní Rodas I'm not assuming, you however are in thinking Tribes correspondence is delayed at this time. All tribes are different, some are doing what others aren't. I have attended Haskell and no one is down playing the system and choices. Simple asking questions on why those decisions were made and what plans the university has set up. Rather than have students advocate for the decisions made, which that's fine to support your school, I still call it my home. But at this time just like many tribal nations have done, decisions have been made for the people. If this is a recommendation from Haskell and they have devised a plan than that's great. All the rest of us only get information from what's posted, and today it was the Indian Leader that announced a positive case on campus. With the small group of students there yes we are all concerned. Especially those of us whose family must remain on campus. As my children watch from afar and wait daily on the safety of their grandparent I'm sure it's the same for many families. This was not to pose as a threat simply a question or justification as to why the campus remains open. No need to wish this sickness upon others as an example.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdoahnippah Míghítoní Rodas my focus is checking on my family there who still work at Haskell, but like the rest of us, we watch and wait and pray that these decisions made do not impact anyone further. Unlike you there are others who may not be taking precautions and those are the fears surrounding this epidemic. This post was not meant to upset you, it was for justification. Many of us have family there, I can only assume your family may be worried about you continuing to work. It's what families do. We don't understand why some places were listed as essential and others aren't. This is an unknown time. For us here we simply worry about our family and that was the only concern since the first cases started happening in Douglas county. So no disrespect by it. As adults we should be able to disagree and agree on things respectfully. Please continue to be safe, but also educate to others on why so many are concerned about this. Haskell is deeply rooted in many of our families for generations and we hate to see anything negative coming upon the university especially during this time.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Tashina Tahdoahnippah Míghítoní Rodas you have been helpful in relaying that info, and yes it was out of concern for our loved one. During this time all we can do is wait. Stay safe.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

Jerr Kelly My blessings to the student who is in self quarantine. May you recover quickly. 🙏

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Myra LeClaire Prayers to all of u!!!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Dianne Desrosiers Prayers for the student and all of Haskell community!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Shaun Dutro Just stay locked up and squared away, watch ur 6 and well send the prayerz for ur recovery. Outstanding for taking Choice And initiative to admit ur infected get wellm

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

John Droll Send my prayers to the students and staff at Haskell!!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Marc Marshall Prayers to the student and staff that are helping this young person get well. Haskell did a very good job of getting shut down and students home when they did. Prayers to the students that weren't able to get home to their families-I'm sure that's where their hearts are!

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Johnnie Hopkins Lucero Sending prayers of comfort and protection to the students who are still on Haskell campus. Praying that they can get home safely where they would probably like to be. Prayers for the confirmed case for prayers of healing.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Wendy Lu Prayers for the student to recover.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Top Fan

Channah Walker Praying this student recovers fully, finds the resources to return home safely, and that their home & family is well. We know the impact but resources for Haskell students and their families could be scarce now. Prayers all around.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Bobbi Marshall Selena Marshall

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Jonita Perry Mary Francis M Aripa-Barksdale

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Jessica Sylvia Shawn Harrah Shawn Harrah

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Agnes Perryman 🙏🙏🙏

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Neeoni Chex 🙏 God help us all

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Neeoni Chex I hope everybody at home is practicing their studies and leaving the most of this time and staying home. Amen.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

Vernon Chimegalrea Fred Smith

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Derrick White It's almost like there's a history here. I think something about Haskell closing and pushing kids out even though they were financially unable to return home?

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Gail Jones-Veney When this became an issue My son decided to come home & I went to get him but we worry & continue to pray for his Haskell family he knows stayed behind, we ask for a hedge of protection to be placed around Haskell Indian Nations University & be safe.

Like · Reply · Message · 5w

Nashoba Waters Lynn Skylar Vann I'm going to have to wait until this thing blows over before trying for school it seems

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Antonio Weston I'm delighted I decided to study at Cabrillo in CA instead of this place 🤔

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Zakari Howard Dane Brooke

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Eddie Lehman How do we even know this is real? It's not on Haskell letterhead, there is no signature, no point of contact or even a phone number.

If you go to the web address listed there is no information provided. ... See More

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Kylee Sellers Eddie Lehman why would they make it up? what exactly do you mean with your last sentence?

Like · Reply · Message · 7w

Eddie Lehman Kylee, it's not so much that it is made up, although that would not be the first time someone made up a memo at Haskell, is that it is an extremely poor example of professional correspondence.

And by that last sentence, I mean that when something unfortunate happens at Haskell, the closer you look, you are likely to find other serious errors and in some case greater than the initially reported event.

Like · Reply · Message · 7w · Edited

Reply as Haskell Indian Leader

